Writing a take-home test or exam is an example of when students preparing to become professional engineers are required to invoke a high level of integrity and honesty. The completion of the following statement with your signature is required for the submission of this work:

I, RIDDHIMAN ROY (print first and last name), pledge upon my honour that I will not violate our Faculty's Code of Behaviour on Academic Matters during this assessment by acting in any way that would constitute cheating, misrepresentation, or unfairness, including but not limited to, using unauthorized websites, aids and assistance, impersonating another person, and committing plagiarism. I acknowledge that providing unauthorized assistance to someone else is also considered a serious academic offence.
